ANNOUNCEMENTS.
BROADWAY THEATER.

"The Shoemaker"

What is conceded to be the best play in which Mr. Lew Welch, the versatile comedian and character actor, has appeared in his long and eminently successful career, will be the Broadway theater on Monday, Feb. 1st. It is called "The Shoemaker," a four act melodrama by Hal Reid, and it is said to be the best thing in a dramatic way that he has thus far turned out. Of course, "The Shoemaker" was written expressly to exploit the peculiar and unique talents of Mr. Welch, who as the interpreter of a certain kind of an East Side Hebrew stands without an imitator. But the main purpose of the play is to entertain and please, if public approval is any criterion it has attained this end to the letter. Seats on sale at the box office, Waukegan house and Bisket, Fletcher & Co. on Friday, Jan. 29, at 5 o'clock.

Half the Town Will Be at Sheedy's Tonight.

Never before in the history of Shee-dy's theater has there been as much interest taken and as much talk as there is in the sack lifting contest which takes place tonight at that theater. Several local men have sent in their names. That will be an interesting sight to see all our strong men on the stage is needless to say. It will be a sight worth seeing, and we would advise you to get to the theater early tonight if you want to get in. The crowd will be at Sheedy's tonight.

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT.

David Howell has died at Stroud Interment, at the age of 102. He worked on farms in the Stroud district all his life, being employed on one for between 60 and 70 years.

A. Radcliffe Dugmore, whose work in outdoor photography is well known, has just gone to British East Africa for a trip of eight months or a year.
He is entirely devoted to photographing big game.

Mr. Thompson, Canadian member of parliament for Yukon, declares that within five years the Klondike gold output will reach $20,000,000 a year as the results of the operations of the big dredging companies.

Congressman Peter A. Porter, who rode the "Old Cox" into Congress over Wadsworth, of beef fame, is seeking a place in the foreign service. It is announced that President Roosevelt is now arranging to secure a consulate for him.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, who has been working for the past 15 years on deafening to fly in heavier than air machines, is pursuing these operations on an estate of about 1,000 acres at Blinn Brook, near Baderkin Northern Nova Scotia.

Frank N. Meyer, one of the most efficient men in the field workers of the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., recently returned from a year's trip in Asia. Considerable of his time was devoted to the study of how the Chinese farm dry land.

It is interesting to the mothers of debutantes to know that at the very expensive reception given Miss Margery Gould by her parents she herself was dressed with studied simplicity.
There was no ornament in her gown, which was "modified director's," or Greek in style, and she wore not a single jewel.

But three men survive of the party of 50 who left Belfast, Me., on December 8, 1849, in the bark "William Allen" for a voyage around the Horn to the newly discovered gold fields of California. They are William W. West of Boston, Henry J. Woods of Newton, Mass., and Lorenzo G. Combs of Globe, Ariz.

Henry C. Shlenkiewicz, author of "Quo Vadis," says that no woman in the world has such a good time as the American woman, and that she is envied by the people of all other parts of the world. American cooking, he says, is deplorable, because the women do not look after it.

Platon Brownoff, a musician, native of Russia, has gathered from the people of the East Side, New York City, 250 Jewish folk songs. He was moved to the task he says, by the fact that in these days of revival of the familiar songs of nations, every nation's folk songs of the Jews seemed to be neglected.

Madame Blanche Marchesi, the prima donna and a daughter of the celebrated teacher, Matilde Marchesi, is meeting with much success on this her second visit to America. She will sing concerts only. She made her operatic debut in 1895, and appeared many times before Queen Victoria, who on one occasion presented her with a diamond brooch set with the royal initials.

Vernon Bailey, who has charge of the division of geographic distribution of the biological survey, has done much traveling in the haunts of animals and written much concerning their habits. The kopfer is one of the animals of which he has made a special study, though he has written about hundreds of others, particularly about those of the Mississippi valley and of the District of Columbia.

The maharajah of Kapurthala is in Paris with his wife, whom he first met in Madrid as a dancing girl. An-ta Delado was graceful and beautiful, and the maharajah lost no time in winning her regard. He took her to Paris to be trained for the position she was to occupy, and she developed into a handsome woman of dignity and presence.

Mrs. Fannie A. Richardson, who recently died in St. Louis at the age of 78, is worthy of mention because of her family connections. Her great-grandfather, John Sevier, was the first governor of Tennessee, and held that office for a dozen terms; her father, Austin A. King, was governor of Missouri from 1849 to 1853. Tennessee has erected a monument at Nashville to Governor Sevier, while Missouri erected a monument to Governor King at Richmond in that state.

Korea's chief gold quartz mines are included in the American concession at Unsan, which was granted originally in 1893, for 25 years, and as modified and extended, may be operated until 1954. At the Unsan mines a series of large quartz lodes, occurring in granitic schists, are mined successfully and profitably under American management.

CHILD'S FRENCH DRESS.

Bright red cashmere has been used for the development of this stylish little frock for the small girl. Wide hosselle at the front and back distribute their entire length distribute the fullness of the body portion. The short full skirt, finished with a deep hem, is gathered and attached to the waist under the belt of dull-toned Persian embroidery, similar embroidery being used for the collar, wristbands and trimming of the waist. A pretty development for more dressy wear would be soft cream colored albatross, green dannel or challis, with insertions of baby Irish lace instead of the embroidery. The dress is made in fine lawn or batiste, either in white or colors and trimmed with insertions of either white or cream colored English embroidery.
The long sleeves are rather tight and the frock closes at back.

The pattern is in four sizes—1 to 7 years. For a child of 5 years the dress requires 3 1/2 yards of material 2 1/2 inches wide, 2 1/2 yards 36 inches wide or 2 1/2 yards 42 inches wide, 2 1/2 yards of insertion.

Price of pattern, 10 cents.

FOETRY SURPRISE.

If I was as young as I once was, and lender,
I'd talk in a language that you'd understand.
Without sayin' a word; me eyes'd be lender.
An' I would be reachin' and holdin' yer hand,
And birds would be singin' their glad songs above ye.
The trees would be clustered to make ye a shade.
An' I would be tellin' ye, dear, how I love ye,
And askin' yer heart fer me own in a trade.

But I am so old, and it isn't that only That puts the comelier an' stop on the tongue,
And sends me along down th' highway all lonely.
It is not I'm so old but it's you are so young;
But there was a time, is it worth while to mention Before the gray streaks had found place in me hair.
The minutes I seen you you'd known my intention,
O-hone! you are handsome! O-hone!

O-hone, you are sweet; an' the road I am farin'
Is leadin' the way you are takin' tomorrow.
But me heart that nussel is more forward an' darin'.
An' I would keep on all year life all the way,
And I will remember, the while winds in your eye,
And the glow up above and the red hawthorne growin'.
And the white clouds a-racin' across the blue sky.

Oh, never look that way, an' never be gullin' An' lookin' at me from the tail of your eye.
The dimple that peeps from your cheeks so beguin' Your lips are so darin' I'm fair for the price.
They're almost a-holdin' up sweet for me.
And me ten years older than you!
It's a sin.
But, darin' a kiss from your lips me heart's breakin'.
What's that ye are sayin'? "Why not take it, then?"
—Houston (Tex.) Post.

MIGNON'S SONG.

Know'st thou the land where flowers of golden bloom?
The golden orange glows through leafy From the blue heavens the breezes float so bland?
The hills are still, and tall the laurels stand?

Know'st thou the land?
O there—O there!
Loved one, with thee I long to wander there.

Know'st thou the house? Its roof the columns bear—
The polished floors the halls so bright and fair, Where marble figures standing look on there.

columns bear—
The polished floors the halls so bright
